TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1893.

Only 25 more days of Harrison.

The old Library Bell will be hung in the Pennsylvania building at the World's Fair.

Hopkinsville was one of the few places in the country where the groundbreaking saw his shadow.

The deadlock in the North Dakota Senatorial contest is still on, with the end of the session only three weeks off.

Congressman Goodnight has gone to Florida in search of health, it is probable that he will never find again.

Mrs. Wm. C. Whitney, wife of the ex-Secretary of the Navy, died at her home in New York Sunday, of heart disease.

Dirt has been broken on the Kentucky building at the World's Fair. The building and fixtures will cost $20,000.

Another Indian outbreak has occurred at Pine Ridge, in South Dakota. Two Strikes' band put out the war paint and killed five white men.

The election of S. B. Hale as President of Hawaii would indicate that the scheme to make him a federal judge to be a failed effort, as Laurie Blaibald would say.

There have already been nine kidnappings in South America during the year begun, Al-Richmond, Va., last week four negroes were hanged by a mob for the murder of two white men.

The Bowing Green Herald, a new evening daily, has been started by Brooks & Sutliff, which bids fair to make John Gaines get an extra hustle on his journalistic gold mine, the Times.

Judge Lindsey was unanimously nominated for Senator in the Democratic caucus Thursday night, and will be elected the 11th, to fill his seat at the expiration of two years.

Representative E. H. Taylor, of Frankfort, will be given a wide berth to succeed Judge Lindsey. Mr. Taylor will in turn be succeeded by Mr. J. W. Frust, cashier of the Frankfort National Bank.

The criminal assault epidemic has crossed Mason and Dixon's line and a case is reported from Mount City, Ill., where an old lady was outraged by an unknown negro, who succeeded in making his escape.

Kentucky, Louisiana and California are the three states that will have primaries in their State buildings at the World's Fair. They made their contracts before the privileges of the grounds were sold.

If the Mullingson Will Cox is anything like his Warren county namesake, who served several terms in the Legislature, he may be expected to make a name and reputation of which his constituents will be proud.

The promotion of Judge Jackson to the Supreme Bench will create a vacancy in the Sixth Judicial Circuit of the United States, of which Tennessee is a part, and President Harrison may or may not make a nomination for this position.

James Logan is running his own portal at the head of "The Kentucky Editor," department of the Louisville Times. The license is not a first-rate one, but there is no mistaking the fact on the table and the flesh of that stout school. Modesty, where thy blight!

The Anti-Options Bill, which had previously passed the House, went through the Senate last week with a vote of 36 to 12. The bill, which had been introduced in the Senate by a committee on which I was chairman, will go back to the House again, and the opponents of the measure hope to prevent its passage before the session ends. The bill is intended to stop salting futures.

The constitutional amendment providing for the election of Senators by direct vote of the people has passed a House and gone to the Senate. It is now up to the Senate to pass it to a third vote, then the States will be called on to vote upon the amendment and would unquestionably be accepted by Senators, many of whom have right there in their pocketbooks to take their chances with the gradations rather than the people future elections.

Mr. LaFoy Francis, an son of George and Mary, has established himself in Schenectady's heaven in life, the children a kind, loving and good a mother as ever lived. Mrs. Carter was as noble a specimen of Christian womanhood as God ever created. In the year 1867 she made her home in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, a wealthy widow of who is related to many prominent people, and the result is a healthfully established home. Mrs. Carter is a deeply spiritual woman.

H. F. M.
Ky., Feb. 7, 1893.

In Arkansas last year a colored rapist was burned at the stake, and at Paris, Texas, last Wednesday, this act of barbarism was not only repeated, but double-burned. A negro was found tortured and dismembered, a little 30 year old daughter of Policeman Henry Vance, because the officer had arrested Smith and clubbed him to death. The child's dead body was left in the mud to rot.

Smith was paraded all over town on a float and the crowd jeered at him.

He was then paraded to Hope, Ark., where he was captured and brought back to Paris. Every preparation had been made for his execution, and, by a vote of 1,000, it was decided to burn him to death. The crowd estimated at 10,000 people had gathered and Smith was paraded all over town on a float and the crowd jeered at him.

Smith was placed on the scaffold and a fire was lighted under the body.

He did not reduce the tariff it was a good day's work.

An important difference

To make it apparent to thousands who think themselves ill, that they are not affected with any disease, but that the system is healthy, we have a new law in effect to compel them to bring certain forms to their health as a definite condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.
